

Programme

Whilst the past few weeks may have felt a little disjointed with your primary visits taking place, you should find that you are able to start to take a more opportunities to begin teaching lessons. This is an excellent opportunity to start putting into practice some of the practical strategies and effective verbal responses to pupils that were discussed in your behaviour management sessions with Mike Carr. You will still be getting regular opportunities to observe other teachers, and this is a good time to focus on observing the subject pedagogy being used, i.e. "how do the teachers plan to achieve their intended learning outcomes?"

This Friday you will all be attending your first Lead Subject Coach Session. Ensure you check the time and venue beforehand.

The first Progress Assessment (RAG rated) is due on Tuesday 16th October. I have sent an exemplar out to all trainees this morning to assist in completing this.

Your Link Tutor should now have been in touch to arrange the first Link Tutor visits, which should take place before half term.
